INDIAN GIRL VISITS HERE — Prama Sondhi, widely traveled daughter of a Delhi, India, business man, stopped here this week to visit with a local friend, Miss Barbara Miller, 211 Highland Ave., whom she met while both were living in Cambridge, Mass. Golf is not Prama's forte, but she says she has taken a liking to many other American pastimes. While in this country during the past year, Prama was a student of English literature at Harvard's graduate school and roomed with Miss Miller, who is employed by the Little-Brown Publishing Co. She expects to stay here until Friday when she will return to her home in India. Prior to coming to the United States, she was a student at Heidelberg University, Germany.

Knee Injury Means 2-Week Rest

Nixon Campaigns While In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon is hospitalized with a knee infection, but plans to keep busy working out campaign schedules and speeches he will use when he gets out in about two weeks.

Nixon was admitted to Walter Reed Army Hospital Monday for antibiotic treatment of his left knee, injured when he bumped an automobile door on a campaign trip to Greensboro, N.C., Aug. 17. His press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said the hospitalization was a precautionary measure to prevent any possible permanent injury to the knee.

Nixon is to keep off his feet, but is not expected to be confined to bed. He is in the hospital's spacious presidential suite, where President Eisenhower recuperated from two major illnesses.

The unexpected change of plans, which caught both Republicans and Democrats by surprise, forced cancellation of a number of appearances the vice president had arranged for the next two weeks.

Nixon had kept a series of appointments Monday and although he mentioned the injury, he had said it would not interfere with his campaigning. He told newsmen the skin on his knee was broken and a lump had formed.

Tests made after fluid was taken from the knee Saturday disclosed what Klein said the doctors called "hemolytic staphylococcus aureus."

This is an organism that causes infection on destroying red blood cells. Sometimes called the "golden bug," it sometimes is difficult to treat with antibiotic drugs.

If it is confined to the skin of the knee, experts said it would not be serious. But if it reached the knee joint it could carry with it potential danger of brain, lung, kidney or liver damage.

Klein said Dr. Raymond Scalettar of the department of medicine and Dr. John D. Blair, chief of orthopedics, ordered Nixon to be sidelined.

Nixon entered the hospital after meeting with a new Dick Nixon Sports Committee headed by Bob Reynolds, former Stanford University football great. Reynolds said the 54 members of his group will stump for Nixon wherever they can. Other members include baseball players Ted Williams and Roy Sievers, golfers Bobby Jones and Sam Snead and pro football's Frank Gifford.

Two magazine articles written by Kennedy were in the news.

In the current issue of the Saturday Review, he said the idea that the free world can be protected by the threat of massive retaliation is no longer tenable. He said greater efforts should be made to seek effective means of arms control.

In a Look magazine article, Kennedy said he had always re-

Says OAS Declaration 'Bought' by U.S.

Castro Boasts of Soviet 'Solidarity'

HAVANA (AP) — Flaunting Cuba's "solidarity" with the Soviet Union, Fidel Castro early today called for a giant rally of the Cuban people Friday afternoon to answer the Declaration of San Jose.

The bearded prime minister reaffirmed his regime's ties with the Soviet Union as he lashed out at the Organization of American States and the United States during a three hour and 15 minute harangue.

Castro boasted to a meeting of teachers bound for new schools in the mountains of east Cuba that "we have had the honor and glory of being the one to initiate the rebellion of America against the Yankee empire."

He charged the United States used its proposed 500-million-dollar aid program for Latin America and its allocation of the 700,000 tons of sugar cut from Cuba's quota sold to the United States to buy the San Jose Declaration.

In the declaration 19 member nations of the OAS joined Monday in denouncing Soviet and Communist Chinese intervention in the Western Hemisphere and reminding OAS members—meaning Cuba particularly—of their obligation to submit to the "discipline of the inter-American system."

Castro termed the action of the OAS foreign ministers at their Costa Rica meeting "treason to the peoples of Latin America."

"Those who subscribed to the Declaration of Costa Rica (sic) will be known as the Judas Iscariots of the Americas," Castro declared. He denounced the San Jose meeting as "one of the blackest and most repugnant pages in history has written."

He scoffed at the "alleged intervention" of the Soviet Union in the hemisphere. "When the Pentagon was finishing up plans of aggression against Cuba," Castro continued, "the Soviet Union offered us the support of atomic rockets." That, he asserted, was not intervention but a "generous offer of aid to little people if they were invaded militarily."

He predicted the San Jose decision would create "situations of crisis" for the Latin American signatories and cited the leftist riot Monday night in Caracas, Venezuela, whose foreign minister tried unsuccessfully to water down the San Jose Declaration, as a country of "most heroic and revolutionary, anti-imperialistic feeling" that has suffered much from military tyrants and "exploitation by Yankee monopolies."

Four Persons Injured In Car Mishaps

Four persons, one a pedestrian, were injured in traffic accidents on city streets Monday.

Police reported the pedestrian, Jesse S. Grimm, 64, of 271 N. Madison Ave., was struck at 8:18 p.m. while crossing E. State St. at Broadway by a car driven by James L. DeBray, 62, of Hanoverton, while DeBray was making a left turn off Broadway onto State St.

Police said the impact knocked Grimm to the pavement. He sustained bruises and brush burns over his right eye and a nasal hemorrhage and was treated at the Central Clinic. DeBray was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Three persons were injured in a collision at E. Pershing St. and Woodland Ave. at 12:06 p.m. between cars driven by Larry C. Miller, 28, of 1113 E. 3rd St., and Clara M. Karlen, 52, of RD 1, Salem.

Police said Miller was northbound on Woodland when Mrs. Karlen, driving west on Pershing went through a stop sign. She was

Congress Tries Again On Minimum Wage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees, still deadlocked over terms of a minimum wage bill, agreed to try again today in final $305,042,731 appropriation bill.

Firman Indicted For Kidnaping

Arraignment Set Thursday for Robber

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Gordon (Spunky) Firman, 21, who staged a one man crime wage for a month before being captured last Friday, was indicted Monday by the Butler County Grand Jury on four charges of kidnaping.

He is scheduled to be arraigned on Thursday.

Firman allegedly kidnaped four Hamilton boys while escaping from Hamilton police. He broke into a home where Jerry Utsler, 16, lived.

When the boy came home, Firman reportedly directed him at gunpoint to call some one who had an automobile. He telephoned Gary Cozard, 18. Two friends, Lloyd Doughty, 17, and Leroy Dees, 17, arrived at the house about the same time as Cozard.

The boys told police that Firman made them get into the car and drive away. At nearby Morrow the car broke down. The boys said they were made to accompany Firman until he saw another young man in a car.

That was Don Center, 19. Firman stopped Center and ordered him to drive them away. The young men escaped some time afterward when the car was wrecked.

Firman escaped from jail at Co-shooton on July 26. He was scheduled to be released the next day from a charge of giving beer to a minor.

From that time until his capture, Firman stole automobiles, broke into a jail to release a friend, robbed grocery stores and allegedly kidnaped the young men.

Firman was shot and taken into custody by Columbiana County Deputy James Miller and Wells-ville Officer Charles Amato in a farmhouse at Sherrodsville. His pal Robert Johnson, was captured in Salem last Wednesday.

Talhouni Named New Premier

Suspect Held In Jordan Bombing

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Investigators said today they believed two missing press messengers who apparently escaped to Syria planted the bombs that killed Premier Hazza Majali. One suspect is being held.

One of the missing messengers, Kamal Shammout, 22, was employed by Egypt's Middle East News Agency before its office here was closed in 1957 in the long feud between Jordan and President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria.

Young King Hussein, apparently in firm control of the nation despite the assassination Monday of Majali and 10 other persons, named Bahjat el Talhouni, chief of the Cabinet, as the head of a new government. He approved Talhouni's new 11-man government, including seven holdovers from the Majali Cabinet.

A special committee appointed to investigate the bombings, which wounded 41 other persons, held a messenger boy at the press bureau for questioning.

The bureau occupies part of the building housing the Majali's office. The bombs were planted in Majali's office and in the office of the director of the press bureau.

Shammout and his colleague, Shaker Dabbas, were employed at the press bureau. They disappeared a few hours before the bombs went off.

Amman returned to an outwardly normal appearance. The curfew was lifted. Airports were reopened, and business resumed as usual.

Majali was regarded in Cairo as a leader of Arab forces opposed to the Egyptian government.

Precinct Personnel To Be Named by Election Board

The County Election Board is preparing to mail notices of appointment Thursday to 912 men and women named to serve as judges and clerks in its 152 precinct polling places for the Nov. 8 general election and the May 1961 primaries. Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk said today.

Three Republicans and three Democrats will be named to serve in each precinct. By law, the appointments must be made by Sept. 15 when new one-year terms begin. O'Hanlon pointed out. The appointments are based on recommendations made by party central committees.

Selection of the presiding judge in each precinct is based on the vote for governor in that polling place in 1958. If the Democratic gubernatorial candidate carried the precinct in 1958, the presiding judge will be a Democrat. If the Republican gubernatorial candidate received the most votes two years ago, the presiding judge will be a member of the GOP.

Meanwhile, O'Hanlon pointed out that issuance of absentee ballots for service personnel and civilians residing temporarily outside the United States will begin Sept. 9. Regular civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots are not available until Oct. 9, under state law, he pointed out.

Congo Soldiers Fight Warriors' Move to Secede

U.N. Plans Takeover Of Kamina Air Base From Belgian Troops

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo — Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba faced a new challenge today in Kasai province, where his soldiers were reported battling tribal warriors backing the secessionist move there.

U.N. forces meanwhile planned to take over control today of Belgium's big Kamina military base in Katanga province. The last of the Belgian combat troops were pulling out for home or the neighboring trusteeship territory of Ruanda-Urundi, but several hundred Belgian army maintenance men were to remain until Belgian equipment is removed.

Under an agreement between the U.N. force and the Belgian government, only U.N. troops will be allowed to use Kamina's 100-million-dollar worth of facilities, including one of the biggest runways in Africa. The idea is to keep Lumumba's troops from using the base as an invasion point against Katanga's secessionist premier, Moise Tshombe.

News of the fighting in Kasai was as confused as most reports out of the chaotic Congo in recent weeks.

Kasai Premier Pascal Ngalula told the Belgian News Agency that Baluba tribesmen had counterattacked with bows, arrows and spears against several hundred Congolese army troops who thrust into Kasai's rebellious "mining state" Arga three days ago and captured its capital, Bakwanga.

But authorities in nearby Katanga said any talk of a counter-offensive by the tribal warriors was propaganda put out by the anti-Lumumba leaders seeking recognition of their independence movement.

However, a Katanga military station monitored a radio appeal from Bakwanga to Leopoldville asking for transport to fly out 10 wounded men. This seemed to support reports of violence in the area.

Lumumba's invasion of Kasai previously had been virtually bloodless, with no serious fighting reported.

With the Congolese troops in Kasai reportedly planning to invade Katanga in an effort to crush Tshombe's resistance to Lumumba's central government, the Katanga army commander in the small rail and farming town of Kaniama, near Kasai's border, said every road and rail line leading into Katanga along the 800-mile frontier has been mined or blocked.

Oil drums also block the airstrips at Kaniama and other fields along the frontier.

Administration Criticised on Use of Executive Privilege

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Only the President can claim executive privilege to withhold information from Congress, the chief counsel of the House Government Information subcommittee said today.

It is "pernicious doctrine" for executive departments and agencies to claim such a right, added Jacob Scher, a lawyer and former newspaperman now on leave from Northwestern University.

He traced the legal and political history of the executive privilege claim in a speech prepared for a convention of journalism educators, and criticized use of it under the Eisenhower administration.

The doctrine has been invoked periodically by presidents of all parties dating back to George Washington. But Scher said the claim has been used increasingly by the Eisenhower administration starting with the Army-McCarthy hearings in 1954.

Scher said there is no specific reference in the Constitution to an executive privilege of confidentiality. He acknowledged that separation of powers is related to the issue, but said only the courts can settle that constitutional question.

He contended that withholding of information under claim of the privilege had grown sharply since Eisenhower's 1954 order.

"Thereafter it became a slogan and a banner under which more and more federal departments and agencies asserted the right to withhold information from Congress and the people," he said.

"By the rules of reason and experience, there is little room for government secrecy in a democracy."

Government Payroll Up $307 Million; More Pay Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's civilian payroll, already more than a billion dollars a month, rose another 307 million dollars for the year ended June 30.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), noting that pay increases for government workers, effective July 1 were not included, predicted another climb in total payrolls during the current year.

A report of the Senate House Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures, which Byrd heads, said last year's civilian payroll totaled $12,637,000,000, not counting 268 million paid to foreign nationals employed in overseas installations. The year's total included an estimated 64 million dollars paid during the year to temporary census workers.

Main N. Y. Central Line Hit by Strike

ELKHART, Ind. (AP) — A wildcat walkout stalled traffic on the New York Central Railroad's main Chicago-to-New York line early today.

Employer spokesmen said the walkout stemmed from the firing of an Elkhart brakeman. However, they said it had its roots in a two-year protest over Niles, Mich., workers being transferred into the Robert Young yards here.

The walkout began about 7 p.m. Monday. At 2:30 a.m. today police said more than 100 workers were gathered outside the yards, displaying what they termed "informational signs."

R. W. Lang, transportation supervisor, said only two trains had passed through Elkhart since 6 p.m., compared with a normal half-dozen. The last train passed through about midnight.

Traffic was tied up on the railroad's entire Western Division from Chicago to Toledo, Ohio.

None of four railway unions whose members were participating had sanctioned the walkout.

BIG SIR ECHO — Things should go pretty well during the next couple of weeks for the huge, 100-foot-diameter Echo I satellite now orbiting some 1,000 miles above the earth. The aluminum-coated, signal reflecting balloon was inflated by a mere 30 pounds of a special powder which turned to gas under the temperature of the sun. With the northern hemisphere still inclined toward the sun (summer), Echo rides in continual light, as shown in exaggerated scale in News-Graphic above. But as earth continues its journey toward the other side of the sun (winter), Echo's orbit will begin to take it periodically into the earth's shadow and the cold of sunless space. It is not known what effect this will have upon the balloon's structure.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: How can a wife tell for sure if her husband is cheating?

My Warren has always been a good husband and father. He stays home at night or takes me with him. I know where every dime goes. But he's been acting strange lately and I wonder if it means anything. He's been using deodorant every morning.

He never used to do it and it's got me worried. Also, he seems to hesitate before selecting just the right tie. Please tell me if you think I'm worrying needlessly or do you suspect he has another woman in his life?—SUSPICIOUS.

Dear Suspicious: Just because your husband wants to be "Neat-n-tidy" at this place of employment doesn't mean he's sprucing up for a woman.

A husband who stays home at night or takes his wife with him, has a bad habit and accounts for every dime sounds like a jewel. Read the next letter and be ashamed of yourself.

Sloppy Joe

Dear Ann: My husband never was the neatest guy in town but these past few years he's become so careless about his personal habits that I can't take it much longer.

Weeks go by and he doesn't take a bath or a shower. I have to hide his socks and underwear at night so he'll put on fresh things in the morning.

If I throw his soiled clothes in the bathroom hamper he'll fish them out and put them on again, so I have to take them to the basement. At times he is so offensive the children have mentioned it to me.

Please tell me what to do, Ann. He's fine in all other ways—gentle, kind, good to the children and to me, and he has an excellent mind. Why is he so lazy?—UNSIGNED.

DEAR UNSIGNED: Your husband is more than lazy—he's sick. His "excellent mind" has a few blind spots. Part of personal hygiene is consideration for others.

Tell him to go to a doctor and get himself straightened around. Cleanliness is still next to Godliness.

Only Half Right

Dear Ann: My boy friend and I have been arguing about something for a long time. We've consulted etiquette books and have found nothing to settle the question.

Who should go up the stairs first—the man or the woman? And who should go down first?

He says the woman should go first, always. Is he right?—STAIRCASE SADIE.

Dear Staircase: He's only half right. The woman should go UP the stairs first but the gentleman should lead the way DOWN the stairs.

A staircase presents the hazard of a fall. Women have a way of falling up the stairs as well as down. If the man is behind her on the way up he can catch her. If he is ahead of her on the way down, he can break her fall.

County Traffic Toll 14 for 1st Half of '60

Fourteen persons lost their lives in Columbiana County traffic accidents during the first six months of 1960. This fact was revealed this week in the bi-annual report of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety.

One of the 14 was a pedestrian; the other 13 died in collisions. In addition to those killed, 427 persons were injured in the six-month total of 876 accidents, of which 594 were non-injury mishaps while 263 resulted in injuries.

In 1959, the first six months' total showed 13 persons died on county highways in 800 accidents, while 347 others were injured.

Property damage reached $405,460 during the first six months of 1960, compared with $445,580 during the corresponding period in 1959.

In Mahoning County, 17 deaths were recorded on highways during the first six months of this year compared to 22 in 1959. However, in the number of persons injured, 1960 showed an increase to 1,361 over 1,235 the year before. Value of property damaged as a result of accidents was set at $1,011,640 this year, compared to $387,170 last year.

Johnson's Island Blockhouse

The only Confederate cemetery in Ohio is located on Johnson's Island in Sandusky Bay. In 1861, the U.S. Government leased this 300-acre island for a prison camp for officers of the Confederate States of America captured by the Union forces.

Throughout the Civil War, a total of some 155,000 Southern Prisoners of war were confined on Johnson's Island. A number of these prisoners died and were buried there.

In the fall of 1864, a conspiracy was concocted to release the Confederate prisoners, numbering about 2500 at that time. The plan was to arm them, burn Sandusky, Cleveland and other Lake Erie cities. Then the Confederates would obtain horses and raid through Ohio and join up with the Southern army in Virginia.

John Yates Beall, a Virginian of great wealth, was the prime mover in the conspiracy which earned for him the title of the "Pirate of Lake Erie." The steamer "Philo Parsons" was boarded on the Canadian shore by some twenty men. After leaving Kelley's Island for Sandusky, they took possession of the ship. A second ship, the "Island Queen," was captured at Middle Bass Island to aid the expedition.

The captain of the only U. S. warship in the Great Lakes, the "Michigan," captured the conspirators at Sandusky who were to give the signal for the Confederates on the ships to enter the Bay. This stopped the raid and the Confederate conspirators escaped to Canada.

Not a Tear Will Be Shed

The overseas mutual security program total has been cut about half a billion dollars from President Eisenhower's requested total of $4,281,704,000. Congress has agreed on a total of $3,722,350,000, instead.

This has brought the usual warning from the White House that Congress is courting disaster. This trimmed-down total is half a billion more than last year's total, which is not being niggardly, but disaster is being courted, according to the warning.

It cannot be pointed out too often to people who shape opinion in favor of budgets for mutual security that they have lost, contact with U. S. taxpayers. Not a tear will be shed over a cuback of half a billion dollars. Not a tear would have been shed over a cuback of a billion and a half dollars.

As a talking point for a possible acting point, many taxpayers have been arguing for two years that a mutual security program makes no sense without a terminal date. It was not foreseen when the U. S. government sent the over-age destroyers to Great Britain under President Roosevelt's bland credo that you should lend your neighbor a garden hose if his house was on fire that the United States would go on for the next 20 years, not only lending hose but installing water systems and building new houses for new fires to burn down.

MUTUAL SECURITY makes sense and generates enthusiasm when it is sensibly applied, enthusiastically received and produces results. It makes no sense and generates no enthusiasm when it is piddled away on government like the Dominican Republic, from which the United States belatedly has withdrawn diplomatic recognition.

It makes no sense to have spent money to combat the Communist Conspiracy in Cuba, which now has been captured outright by the Communist Conspiracy.

It makes no sense to spend U. S. money on Yugoslavia, which never quit being a Communist dictatorship, or on Spain, which never was in danger of going over to the Communists and never was within hoping distance of not being a dictatorship.

The latest affront to American sense is to spend U. S. funds on a lightweight politician in the Belgian Congo who has his hands out in both directions and seems to have sold neither will get a bargain.

IF MUTUAL SECURITY enthusiasts don't know why they have lost touch with U. S. opinion, they can remember Chiang Kai-shek's disastrous fiasco in the China failure. Or they can wonder where all the hundreds of billions of dollars have gone and what there is to show for it, other than amounts that have represented subsidies to U. S. enterprise and have underwritten the cost of dumping U. S. surpluses of commodities and obsolescent military weapons abroad.

The next national administration should face up to the fact that foreign aid does not command domestic confidence the oft-repeated warning that to cut its grand totals will bring disaster has a hollow sound.

Disasters came anyway. Disasters cannot be bought off with money.

Everybody Learned a Lesson

It is obvious that the Kohler Co. of Wisconsin is not going to hire back workers who have been on strike for six years without fighting the National Labor Relations Board's ruling that it must do so.

It is further obvious that if the company did hire back as many as 2,000 workers who had been off its payroll for six years at the expense of getting rid of their replacements a grievous wrong would be done. Even the NLRB, with its phenomenal capacity for rationalizing the irrational, would have trouble rationalizing that.

By this time everybody has a fixed opinion about the Kohler strike. It has been the most talked about, most written about strike in this century. It has generated mountains of arguments, rebuttals and reports of hearings. It has been investigated by unions, management, Congress, scholars and an endless chain of newspaper and magazine writers.

It has been in and out of the courts of Wisconsin. It has been to the United States Supreme Court. It has been a career for some NLRB members. Lawyers have fed on it. United Auto Workers and its president, Walter Reuther, have spent no less than 11 million dollars on it. The Kohler Co., though it has survived, has lost an untold and untellable amount of business.

The latest development — an NLRB ruling that the company should rehire up to several thousand employees, eliminating only 77 who for one reason or another cannot be given a clean bill of health — is inconclusive. That is, perhaps, the lesson taught by the Kohler strike.

Everybody has learned that a labor-management dispute that cannot be resolved in a reasonable length of time never can be resolved. Bitterness is piled on bitterness until original issues are buried. Details and technicalities defy comprehension. Circumstances change so radically that settlement of the original dispute could not settle the disputes that grew out of the original dispute.

The disputants grow older. Their minds change. They are like feudists who cannot remember how the feud began. All they know is that in the absence of a way out they are honor-bound to keep on feuding.

On the face of it, the Kohler Co. has come out ahead. It has not knuckled under to the UAW. The company is still in business on its own terms. But so is the UAW in business. Both would be better off if there never had been a Kohler deadlock.

Parkinson's Law Covers It

Congress did not need an extra three weeks in August to wrap up what very well could have been wrapped up early in June.

Moreover, Congress had no firm intention of wrapping up anything in August; it is marking time for the convenience of a pair of Democratic senators who are the presidential and vice-presidential nominees of their party.

If it had any real work to do or any inclination to do any real work, it would be going about this tag-end session differently. What it is doing is an example of the kind of legislative dilly-dallying that hurts representative government more than it is comfortable to admit.

This is why. Representative government depends on popular understanding of what is proposed, what is said during debate and what finally is decided. When legislative bodies stall, dilly-dally, ly, wheel and deal, back and fill, act and reconsider and put off till week after next what they could have done the day before yesterday, they create so much public confusion that people lose track of what is going on.

They get the idea that nothing is going on, just as they get the idea that a glacier isn't moving because they can't detect any movement.

The whole thing is covered by Parkinson's Law: Work expands to fill the time allotted for its performance. If all legislators were paid by the day up to a certain number of days, then fined by the day if they exceeded the total, all public business would be transacted in jig time.

As it is, the premium is put on delay, it being the legislative theory that if everything is put off indefinitely it will blow away or get lost in the last-minute confusion of closing a session stretched out for the sole purpose of creating confusion.

Once Over

Dogs in the Russian spaceship were declared in perfect shape, none the worse for the 437,500-mile tour. But our guess is that the pooches' answer would be, "That's what you think!"

"Want to go for a nice orbit?" is enough to send most dogs under the bed. "Come here, Fido, master wants to put on your outer-space equipment," is equally disconcerting.

Strelka and Belka, Soviet pooches, if they could speak plainly would say: "Science is wonderful and you can have it. 'All we know is that after the experience no dog would sit up and beg for another orbit. It had us crazy coming and going. Tass says we are in great shape and didn't mind it, but if we had a subscription to it we would cancel it fast.'"

Any dog knows when he is out of his element and in no place where he can fetch slippers, chase mailmen, answer a boy's whistle or chew up a rug. Two hundred miles above the earth is no place for friendly pals, affectionate glances and a meat bone.

Strelka and Belka were probably as startled as a pair of dog-track hounds would be if they suddenly found the rabbit was CHASING THEM!

They were, we suspect, too, terrorized to scratch fleas. Of course there is the possibility the fleas were too dazed to bite. The scientists covered everything but the quest on how a flea reacts to outer space. Maybe the best way for dogs to get rid of fleas is by orbit?

By H. I. Phillips

As a dog owner for many years, we can't be convinced that Fido isn't pretty sick by the time all the electrodes attaching him to the spaceship communications system are in place, to say nothing of his first peek at gadgets for automatic feeding and appearance on a sort of "Meet The Dog" TV program.

We imagine an interview with Strelka or Belka would include:

Q: Did you enjoy it?
A: Certainly not. I was told I was going on a peace mission.

Q: Didn't you growl or bark at the spaceship men?
A: Yes, but they vetoed my bark and said one more growl would make me an aggressor.

Close Race In Ohio

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Nixon strategists, including the vice president himself, are wise in discounting the early polls showing an advantage for the Republican presidential ticket over the Kennedy-Johnson combination.

In evaluating any presidential campaign in terms of relative advantage, no general countrywide poll can be reliable.

Presidents are elected by the electoral votes of states. And certain states will be the decisive elements in determining the outcome in November.

For that reason, in my comment I shall present a number of reports, based upon on-the-scene observations.

The following is a report by Raymond Moley, Jr. who discussed the Ohio situation with Republican State Chairman Ray Bliss, and other members of Bliss' organization in Columbus.

It should be added here that Ohio is a good place to start such evaluations. It was long regarded as a state which almost always went with the successful candidate in a presidential election; in short, one of those things called by political reporters "pivotal."

THE REPUBLICAN party in Ohio is facing an ordeal so grave, an opposition of such magnitude that it might well be on the way to such a long Democratic control as Michigan struck in 1948.

Up to that year, it should be remembered, Michigan had been a relatively safe Republican state. But a combination of weakness in the Republican organization and the growing power of the Reuther machine has resulted in its being overwhelmingly Democratic for 12 years. It is now reaching the end of the cycle.

Ohio may be at the beginning of a similar Democratic trend.

In 1958, several factors contributed to a major Republican disaster. There was an inept state administration under Republican Gov. C. William O'Neil, further complicated by the chief executive's illness.

Businessmen overrode the warnings of Sen. Bricker and Chairman

Bliss and put a right-to-work amendment on the ballot.

The advocates of the amendment were not well prepared but the labor unions were. The results was a heavy registration and an at the polls.

Even Bricker, hitherto unbeatable in Ohio, was defeated. Democrats won all along the line, from the governorship to the county court-houses. Both Houses of the Legislature became Democratic, and the Republicans lost three congressional seats.

Today the Democrats are still at an advantage. They retain the big registration of 1958. They have Gov. Michael DiSalle, who has built himself a powerful political machine.

Labor's COPE is deeply entrenched even in the rural counties. And COPE has more money to spend than Bliss can possibly raise from Republican contributors.

THE DEMOCRATS have an added incentive to win, because if they can control the legislature they can redirect the state, thus adding to their strength in Congress.

On the Republican side there is the outstanding Republican chairman of all the United States. Bliss is a realist and a very able organizer.

He has been laboring hard to perfect the organization of which he is the head. And he is making progress.

What he is creating is superior to anything Ohio Republicans have seen before. And it is different. He says this to county chairmen and Republican workers generally:

"These are changing times. We can't win as we have in the past with reasonably good organization. We need a perfect organization and outstanding candidates. We shall need the breaks, too. When we prepare ourselves to be good losers it is time to get out."

Candidate Kennedy, realizing the importance of Ohio, plans to spend more than a week of his time campaigning in Ohio.

Against him as a candidate and DiSalle as an organizer of his support, the Nixon-Lodge ticket may have hard going.

Shaky Endorsement

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Labor Union Makes More Noise Than Action

Some endorsements in a political campaign could mean the "kiss of Death" to a presidential candidate among groups of voters who are antagonized by the action.

The AFL-CIO has just endorsed Sen. Kennedy, the Democrat nominee, has the radical organization which calls itself Americans for Democratic Action but which believes in centralized government.

There are 13 1/2 million members in the AFL-CIO and, while the general board which voted the endorsement cannot deliver the votes of its members, the impression sought to be conveyed is that it can.

In fact, the AFL-CIO maintains a close watch on roll calls in Congress and in every campaign points to whether a member has gone down the line for union labor or has failed to support its proposals.

The citizens are supposed to reward by their votes in the presidential and congressional elections the candidates who have supported the cause of labor.

It isn't a "bought and paid for" arrangement in the sense that a money bribe is offered or accepted but the truth is that many millions of dollars are collected from union members by the AFL-CIO leaders acting in behalf of supposedly separate political organizations.

THESE FUNDS are contributed to state and local as well as national election campaigns in support of those candidates who have a record of doing the bidding of the trade union leaders.

Sen. Kennedy says he is "proud of the endorsement," and one wonders if this means that, if elected, he will feel beholden to the AFL-CIO.

The Democratic platform has already pledged that the next Congress will enact legislation taking away from 20 states their right to keep on the statute books—and in their constitutions—a provision enabling a worker to join or not to join a union without risking punishment through the loss of his job.

The custom is for the labor unions to threaten costly strikes against employers who refuse to sign an agreement to fire anyone who doesn't join a union.

If the National Association of Manufacturers or the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, using the prestige of their positions in the business world, were to announce that they endorsed Vice President Nixon, the labor press would be the first to jump on them as having made a "deal" with the Republican presidential candidate to help him get elected in return for the support he would give measures they favor.

While many businessmen as individuals will be for the Nixon-

Lodge ticket, they do not in their trade organizations make any such endorsement or formally call on their members to support a candidate.

In fact, until recent years the American Federation of Labor itself would for the most part avoid endorsement of any presidential nominees. This policy was proclaimed for the AFL by Samuel Gompers, who, though making no secret of his own preferences, avoided any commitment by his national labor organization.

IT IS IRONICAL that the Gompers doctrine is now being reversed in many other ways. Thus, Mr. Gompers argued for years that no employer should have the right to make non-membership in a union a condition of employment and finally Congress wrote such a prohibition into law.

But now the labor unions themselves favor discrimination as long as it is in their favor. They oppose right to work laws on the specious argument that those who favor such laws would be able to interfere with collective bargaining, which simply isn't so, as the present laws guaranteeing the right to organize would not be changed.

Another paragraph in the AFL-CIO's endorsement of Sen. Kennedy has caused a raising of eyebrows among many people who hitherto have regarded that organization as a staunch ally of the anti-Communist cause in America.

The paragraph says:

"Quibbles over precise wording cannot conceal the fact that Nixon impugned the loyalty of a congressman, a nominee for the Senate, a secretary of state and a President of the United States in his various electoral adventures."

This is all the more surprising because the AFL's own statements were critical of the failure of various officials during the Truman administration to deal more vigorously than they did with the Communists.

TO SAY NOW that criticism of this kind "impugned the loyalty" of anybody is to indulge in a guilt-by-inference technique which the new AFL-CIO pronouncement itself professes to condemn.

One wonders if George Meany really knew who was behind the insertion of that paragraph in the AFL-CIO's statement for it doesn't sound like anything he has ever said in the past against Communist activities in this country or against those who have poo-pooed the Communist menace.

As for the campaign of 1950, which is so often the pretext for criticizing the kind of speeches Mr. Nixon made with his opponents, Adm. E. M. Zacharias, a retired naval intelligence officer, wrote a letter to the New York Herald Tribune last week pointing out that many people have not known—namely, that the opponent of Mr. Nixon in that campaign had spoken from the same platform with a known Communist, who organized the meeting and that it was this which drew the fire of Mr. Nixon at the time.

TV Addicts

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you an addict of television Western programs?

Do you feel they are blighting your life because you spend more time watching them than you do working at your job or entertaining your wife and children?

Do not despair. Hope may be at hand. The ailment may cure itself spontaneously. It did with me.

Today there are millions of Americans addicted to liquor, narcotics or gambling. But for every one of these there are probably five who are compulsive viewers of TV horse opera.

The disease is insidious in its onset. At first the victim is supremely self-confident.

"I can take this stuff or leave it alone," he says, twirling the knobs on his TV set.

That's the way I felt, too. At the start I watched one I discovered one Western program wasn't enough.

One simply left me feeling empty and unsatisfied. I craved more gunfire, more stampedes, more redskin raids, more U. S. Cavalry charges, more rustlers. Without knowing it I was hooked.

One led to another, and soon I was thinking up excuses to leave the office early so I could get home early and switch on the kid Westerns.

"Daddy, do we have to look at any more cowboys?" pleaded my 7-year-old daughter, Tracy.

"Shut up, kid," I grated, "and watch the posse."

"You don't eat dinner any more," complained my wife. "You just gulp your food in between hangings and stagecoach hold-ups."

It was true. It got so I couldn't even go to sleep unless I first had a nightcap in the form of a late, late movie.

When the doctor heard of my vice, he said: "We're getting a lot of cases like yours lately. You're simply suffering Western hallucinations — a form of TV DTs."

He suggested that I taper off. I couldn't taper off. The disease got worse. Then suddenly one night, while I was watching my fifth Western program of the evening, I began to sweat. I trembled violently.

The hero was just about to gun down the villain, but I instinctively switched off the set. In a few moments I calmed down and felt better.

What had happened? I still don't know. But the disease had apparently run its course. It is still too early to be sure the remedy is permanent, but I feel it is.

If you are a helpless horse opera addict, don't give up hope. An overdose of the stuff may turn you into a teetotaler, too, and you can start living a normal life again free from the noise of bang-bang.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Infant's Head Has Interesting Geography

If you had to jam your head through an opening a couple of hat sizes too small, you'd not be surprised to find a couple of sore spots, bumps and bruises.

That's how it is with your baby just after birth. That soft swelling you notice when the baby is first brought to you indicates the portion of the head that led the way (caput succedaneum).

Like the swelling of your ankle that appears after you've worn a tight garter, it will disappear soon after the pressure has been released.

AND THAT lump on the side of the head that doesn't show up for a day or two is a deep bruise (cephalhematoma). It needn't trouble you either. Though it may take a couple of weeks before it, too, disappears like any other black-and-blue spot. Maybe you'll also be puzzled, if it's your first, about two diamond-shaped soft spots on the top of the head that bulge when the baby cries.

They're called fontanelles or "little fountains" for some reason I've never been able to figure out. The larger in front is the anterior fontanelle. The smaller, in back, the posterior fontanelle.

DON'T BE afraid to touch them gently with the tips of your fingers. And, if you outline home plate and the three bases every few weeks or so, you'll observe how they close over with good firm bone. The posterior, after a few months. The anterior, after eight to 15 months.

The purpose of these fontanelles, as you might have guessed, is to act like the webbing in a corset. They give the structure underneath, in this case the brain, a chance to expand.

BY THE TIME your baby is six years old, its head will have grown to almost adult size. And during these few formative years, the amazing structure it houses will have learned to see, hear, among other accomplishments.

Here's a home-grown miracle you can witness and wonder at, every day of your life.

Here's New Paris Silhouette; Now Where's The Diet List?

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP)—Here's the new Paris silhouette. Now where's that diet list?

You've got to look tubular to be a la mode, as shown by the season's first fashion photos from France, released for publication today.

Curves are out, and the flat-as-a-board figure is in. Worse, you can't count on stiff foundations to conceal anything. They've put the puffball skirt in mothballs. The new cut is usually bias, and the materials are almost always drapy, so even when the outline is loose, it takes a skinny figure to wear it.

Daytime colors are so dark as to be almost funeral. You can take your pick of black, brown, prune purple or steel grey.

The girls with good legs still have the advantage, for hemlines cover the knees with just an inch or two to spare.

Probably on purpose, the designers have made it tough for the do-it-yourself brigades. With the new bias drapes, everything depends on the cut and the hang of the thing. Copying will be a tricky business.

But if you've always longed to look like a flapper, or a clinging vine, here's your chance, sanctioned by high fashion. Most of the designers dipped liberally into the lore of the late 1920s and early 1930s for a new silhouette to usher in the 1960s.

The general trends include wraparound envelope dresses, mid-hip suit jackets, back-buttonings, high ring collars, fur trimmings, lightly flared or bag-bottomed skirts, and high-crowned cloches or helmets, worn with a shingle bob and dark eye makeup. To nobody's surprise, Dior was different. Many of designer Yves Saint-Laurent's creations showed half the kneecaps. His little lemon of a skirt, starting at a mid-hip and ending at mid-knee, was tacked on to a long torso tube or middy top which forgot all about bustlines and waistlines. In the evening version the top was a loosely flaring, often transparent trapeze, worn midhip length over a sheath skirt.

Sanders-Toot Nuptials Held In Washingtonville Church

Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church at Washingtonville was the scene of the wedding of Miss Jill Nordene Sanders and Richard Lee Toot on Sunday.

The Rev. Paul J. Korntheuer officiated at the double ring service at 2:30 p.m. before the altar banked with schefflera and ivies and enhanced by vases of white carnations. Tapers in seven-branch candelabra lighted the chancel, and the pews in the bridal aisle were marked with white bows.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanders of RD 5, Salem are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Toot of RD 1, Salem, are parents of the bridegroom.

Miss DeErla Smith of Leetonia sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love." Jerry Guschman of Washingtonville was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a princess gown of silk organza with beaded lace appliques forming the sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. Matching lace appliques decorated the full skirt with chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a bonnet of lace and pearls faced with pleated tulle. She carried a white Bible, a gift from the bridegroom, which was showered with an orchid and stephanotis.

Mrs. Judy Rohrer of Washingtonville was matron of honor. She appeared in a toast colored gown of silk organza. The bodice featured a scoop neckline and brief sleeves.

The marriage of Miss Joanne Wilms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilms of Depot Road, and Richard F. Trevis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Trevis of Youngstown, took place Saturday at 10 a.m. in St. Nicholas Catholic Church, Struthers.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. William Kennedy. Ronald Trevis, brother of the bridegroom, and Thomas Hamrock served as altar boys.

Twin vases of white gladioli and Fuji mums decorated the altar, which was banked with palms. White bows marked the family pews.

William Matthews presided at the organ for the nuptial music. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of Chantilly lace was styled with a fitted bodice with long pointed sleeves and scoop necklines and a bouffant skirt of tiers sweeping into a brush train. Holding her fingertip veil of imported illusion was a princess crown of lace and pleated tulle embellished with pearls and sequins. She carried a showered cascade bouquet of white gladioli, stephanotis and ivy.

Bobbie Wilms, sister of the bride, was maid of honor Mrs. Ralph Firestone of Salem, a college roommate of the bride, and Mrs. Bruce Miller of Cleveland were bridesmaids. The attendants wore silver blue silk organza street length dresses featuring sleeveless embroidered bodices, wide satin belts and full pleated skirts over taffeta. They wore matching Dor bows and carried small cascade bouquets of white gladioli and blue chrysanthemums with blue bows. The sterling silver bracelets they wore were gifts from the bride.

Karol Lynn Krause, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Her short dress of matching blue was designed with a bodice embroidered in white and a full gathered skirt. She carried a white basket of blue daisies and white sweet-heart roses.

John Trevis of Youngstown, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Lawrence Williams Jr. and Ralph Firestone, both of Salem, and Joseph Carano and Richard Kueppers, both of Youngstown, ushered.

Mrs. Wilms was attired in a sheath dress of muted lemon silk shantung with short modified wing sleeves and matching accessories, while Mrs. Trevis wore a two-piece pale green eyelet costume with three-quarter length sleeves and matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white phalaenopsis orchids.

A wedding breakfast was served in the church following the ceremony. The white linen cloth was edged with white net ruffles and blue flowers, bows and fern. Double crystal holders held the white tapers.

Miss Beverly Hamill of Cleveland cut and served the four-tiered wedding cake, which was garlanded by greens and blue and white daisies. Mrs. Leroy Pool of Youngstown presided at the punch bowl.

The 250 guests from Salem, Columbiana, Youngstown, Struthers, Cleveland, Lowellville, North Lima, Campbell, Canfield, Poland, New Middletown, Lisbon, Canton, Cincinnati, Hubbard, Beloit, and Kansas City, Mo. and Meadville, Gibsonia, Farrell and Sharon, Pa. were registered by the bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. John Trevis.

Mr. Trevis, a graduate of Woodrow Wilson High School in 1953 and Ohio University in 1957, received a bachelor of arts degree in zoology and is now a junior in the Kansas City College of Osteopathy and Surgery.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a bone colored silk shantung sheath dress with kimono sleeves and matching accessories. She complemented her attire with the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The rehearsal dinner was held Friday night at Garneau's Restaurant in Youngstown. The bridegroom's parents were hosts.

GIRL IN THE GLASS HOUSE — Washington, D.C., for some time location of the "World's Largest Chair," now has a glass house resting on the outside seat and a pretty girl in the glass house. Lynn Arnold is shown waving at spectators from the house which is 12 feet by 12 feet and positioned 16 feet above the ground. It's a parking lot publicity gimmick.

Powers' Wife Flies Home Unsatisfied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Barbara Powers was back in Washington today, still saying she was not satisfied with what the U.S. government has done so far in behalf of her convicted U2 pilot husband, Francis Gary Powers.

Mrs. Powers declined to answer newsmen's questions on her arrival Monday night.

She was sobbing Monday in New York City when she started down the ramp of the plane on which she had flown from Paris.

Two guards gripped her arms after she started to fall once but caught herself. After she had gone less than 100 feet she suddenly put her hand to her forehead and collapsed to the pavement before police could catch her.

Police carried her inside the airport's health building, where she quickly recovered. She walked to the press room to talk with newsmen 15 minutes later.

"I've done all I can do. I think our government should be able to do something. I'm glad to be home. I really don't know what else to say," she told newsmen.

for final adjournment by Wednesday night, but most leaders privately forecast Thursday or Friday night. Both branches scheduled only minor bills for floor debate today.

This was the fourth meeting of Senate-House conferees on the minimum wage bill.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), head of the Senate delegation, told newsmen he was studying seriously a new compromise proposal offered by Sen. Winston L. Prouty (R-Vt.).

Prouty suggested a plan to bring about 3,100,000 additional workers under the act, compared with four million in the Senate version sponsored by Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, and 1,400,000 in the House bill.

The two measures also vary on the wage minimum. The Senate proposed to boost the present $1 minimum to $1.25 in three steps, the House to $1.15.

Most of the conferees had reported little chance to reach an agreement after their earlier meetings. There were reports Kennedy would abandon the sessions and take the issue to the county in the campaign.

The Senate sent one major bill to President Eisenhower Monday, a compromise Social Security measure containing a limited medical care plan for needy persons over 65. The passage vote, delayed by a long weekend of debate, was 74-11.

Gary Tobian Brings U.S. First Olympic Gold Medal

Wins Springboard Diving Event; Russians Lead With 71 Points

Germany's Ingrid Kramer Blocks Way of Americans in Aquatic Finals

By TED SMITHS
Associated Press Sports Editor
ROME (AP)—America's swimmers and divers sought to triple their gold medal output today with three aquatic finals on the Olympic Games program.
But blocking their way was golden-haired Ingrid Kramer, the 17-year-old East German diver, who already has won the springboard event and led going into today's high diving competition.
She was in front by 1.60 points with Paula Jean Pope of Santa Ana, Calif., the favorite, second.
The United States—its only gold medal won Monday in men's springboard diving by Californian Gary Tobian—needed points badly in its heralded, unofficial battle with Russia for the team title. The Russians had 71 points after a victory in the individual cycling road

Two golf trophies, donated by Carvel Phillips, will be awarded to the R. S. McCulloch team. Ray Mercer was winner of a trophy donated by Mike Corso for the low net round of the year, a 34-7-27.

Other teams participating in the league were W. L. Strain Co., Flooding & Reynard, Rodis No. 1 and No. 2, Zeigler's Market, Stefan Mfg. Corp., W. E. Mounts Co., Metzger Hotel, Shaffer Ford, King Kone, Paul & A's, Salem Appliances and Penn Grill.

A smorgasbord supper followed the golfing events.

Chicago's Jim Brewer Returns to Hospital

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago Cubs rookie pitcher Jim Brewer is undergoing further treatment of his right eye, which was injured in a pitcher's mound brawl with Billy Martin of the Cincinnati Reds.

Brewer, who was hospitalized 17 days after Martin punched him Aug. 4 in Wrigley Field, re-entered a Chicago hospital Monday.
Earlier he underwent surgery twice for two fractures of the right orbital bone, which runs beneath the eye. Cubs officials said the fractures have become infected, making further treatment necessary.

Leetonia Gridders Eye 1960 State Confidently

Despite the loss of nine players through graduation and two others whose families moved out of town, reports from the Leetonia High football training camp are that the Bears will have a better team this season than the 1959 club which posted a 3-5-1 record.
New Head Coach Ike Farrah is currently working with a squad of five seniors, 14 juniors, seven sophomores and five freshmen. Of the 31 players out for the squad, 10 of them won letters last year.

The Bears can't help missing the talents of such departed stars as Quarterback Terry Tilly, Halfback Dave Macry, Guard Bob Hinchliffe and others. However, the additional year of experience for the sophomores and juniors who played varsity ball last year is expected to more than offset the graduation losses.

PROBABLY THE TWO standouts on the squad are co-captains Joe "Jody" Sevenich and Bob Gullett. Sevenich, a stocky, hard-nosed guard, had the distinction two years ago of being given honorable mention on the Class A All-Ohio team as a sophomore.

An ankle injury kept the 5 ft. 6 in. 180-pounder from blossoming into an even greater player last year. A healthy Sevenich could do wonders for the Bears this season.
Gullett, an all-around athlete, weighs only 155 pounds but the track star has the speed to make him a break-away threat at his halfback post.

Other letterwinners are Quarterback Paul Conrad, Fullback Joe Gallo, Halfbacks Rich Troy and Guy Falsetta, Center Jim Stelts, Guard Jim Less, Tackle George King and End Eric Painter.

THE 1960 BEARS will average 172 pounds along the line with the backfield averaging 160 pounds.
"Although we're not blessed with blazing speed or great size, the squad has shown tremendous spirit and desire in early practice," Coach Farrah commented.
As usual, the Class A Bears will play a nine-game schedule against Class AA schools. Leetonia is the only Class A school in the Tri-County League.

The Bears open at Salem against the highly rated Quakers on Sept. 16, then play seven straight Tri-County League games before closing out at home on Nov. 11 against Wellsville.
Farrah will be assisted in the coaching ranks by Len Batcha who will be in charge of the line and Paul Frank who will handle the backs.

The complete 1960 schedule is as follows:

Favorites Lose In Tournament

Cleveland Wins One But Bows to Falls

Top seeded Cleveland Auto Springs & Wheel was able to do no better than break even in its first two Salem Invitational Softball Tournament games played on Monday night at Kelley Field.

Fireballing Rip Fugate tossed a one-hitter and struck out 17 in pitching the Cleveland team to a 10-0 victory over Alliance Murphy Service in the first game. The Clevelanders then ran into another crackerjack hurler, Jim Myers of Cuyahoga Falls McGowan - Reid, who pitched his club to a two-hit, 4-0 victory.

The third game carded last night was halted after one inning because of rain. Youngstown Pnno's was leading the New Brighton Merchants, 1-0 at the time. The game will be resumed at 7:30 on Wednesday night.

A THIRD INNING single to left field by Helsley spoiled Fugate's bid for a no-hitter last night. Fugate struck out the side in four of the seven innings of the fanning bee.

Kirby Laughlin, former Salem athlete, led the Clevelanders' 12th attack with two singles and a triple in four at bats.

Cleveland pitched Bobby Payne in the second game. He gave up only four hits and struck out 10 but Myers did an even better job for Cuyahoga Falls. He gave up a two-out triple to Laughlin in the fourth and a leadoff double to Jurisko in the fifth but pitched out of trouble both times.

MYERS FANNED seven and walked 2. Cuyahoga Falls got him all the runs he needed in the first inning when a walk, hit batsman, an error and a single by Post sent home two runs.

A 7 p.m. encounter between Canton Dumont Sports and Youngstown Avalon Gardens highlights a three-game card tonight at Kelley Field. Each of these teams has a tournament victory to its credit. Canton beat the Akron Esquires, 7-1, and Avalon Gardens handed Salem Shaffer Ford a 3-2 setback.

Cleveland Auto Springs will also be back tonight to take on Farrell 7-Up, a strong team which is 1-1 in the tourney, having lost a 1-0 decision to Cliff Fisher Realty of Youngstown before eliminating the Salem A.C., 9-1.

Grant Swats Nats; Birds Stop Chisox

Vern Law Hurls 19th Win as Bucs Keep 5 1/2 Game Lead Over Cards

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
"We'll make a lot of mistakes, as kid are wont to do. But should we manage to stay fairly close during the first half of the season, then watch out for us during the second half."

Baltimore manager Paul Richards' prophetic spring statement was recalled following the Orioles' 4-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox Monday night which boosted them to within 1 1/2 games of the idle first-place New York Yankees.

Richards must have been looking at a crystal ball. His baby Birds made mistakes—lots of 'em—during those first few months of the regular season but spectacular pitching kept them close to the pace.

During the second half of the campaign, Baltimore has been the hottest club in the American League.
Monday night's victory was Baltimore's second straight over the third-place White Sox who dropped 3 1/2 games behind first, two behind the Orioles.

Yanks Are Idle
Cleveland defeated Washington 6-4 to move within two games of the fourth-place Senators. Boston's Red Sox whipped Kansas City 4-1. The Yankees, after playing three doubleheaders in three days, enjoyed a welcome day off. Detroit also was idle.

Pittsburgh retained its 5 1/2 game bulge in the National League, walloping Los Angeles 10-2. St. Louis burst into second place with a 3-0 triumph over Milwaukee and Philadelphia blanked San Francisco 2-0. Cincinnati and Chicago were idle.

Jack Fisher, one of Richards' five fledgling starters, hurled the shutout for the Orioles. He permitted only four hits and fanned eight for his 10th victory and first shutout.

Grant 16-1 Against Nats
Jim (Mudcat) Grant maintained his mastery of the Senators, as Cleveland made it two in a row over Washington. It was the fifth time in six decisions that Grant has beaten the Senators this season. His career total is a remarkable 16 victories against only one defeat.

Cleveland rapped 16 hits off loser Camilo Pascual and two relievers with catcher Johnny Romano getting three.

Second-inning home runs by Frank Malzone and Lu Clinton were all Tom Brewer needed to down the Athletics. The right-hander spaced eight hits for his eighth victory. Don Larsen, the loser, dropped his 10th against one victory.

Hot Stove League

Walt Simpson brought down the curtain on the Hot Stove League baseball season Monday night by tossing a no-hitter which enabled Class H champion Kresge to clobber Select Dairies, 11-1 at Buckeye Field.

Select Dairies scored an unearned run in the fourth inning to spoil Simpson's shutout. The Kresge star hurler walked two men after two were out and an infield error allowed the run to score.

Meanwhile, Kresge was pounding loser Burt Sutter for eight hits. Doug Mowery and Terry Daily had two hits apiece for the winners.

Kresge, which was Class H runner-up in the state, closed its regular season under Manager Charles Ivan with an unblemished 12-0 mark. Select Dairies, managed by John McQuiston, finished third with eight wins and five losses.

Only the Class H All-Star game Sunday remains on the Hot Stove League slate this season.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Squads of special agents operating out of a federal bureau little known to the public are stalking Jimmy Hoffa — and each of the 5,000 officials who help him run the Teamsters. Slowly and methodically, this "Operation Penetration" of the transport or organization is developing into the most sprawling network ever spun across the land.

Victor Riesel

When the investigation is complete, there will be little in the personal financial history of every one—repeat every one—of the Teamster local and national office leaders which won't be known to the government. And which won't be neatly noted in one set of dossiers.

For three months now this probe has been directed personally by ex-FBI Agent Daniel O'Connor. He is assistant commissioner for Compliance and Enforcement of the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor-Management Reports set up under the Landrum-Griffin Act.

Commissioner O'Connor is a powerful figure indeed under the law. When it comes to finances, a labor official—and his immediate family—has less privacy than the head of a nudist colony.

Certainly the law will run into the wrath of civil liberties groups.

BUT THE LAW does give O'Connor's special division the power to go into every bank account, every rental, every real estate transaction, every bill paid, every investment, every piece of furniture bought, every jitney of expense disbursed by a union official and his or her spouse or minor children.

O'Connor's staff is limited but in many major cities the squared have completed such probes of Teamster officials of joint councils and the biggest local units. In a year, perhaps, each of Hoffa's 900 locals and their leaders will have passed under this financial Geiger counter.

The investigation is directed personally by O'Connor from Washington. It is based primarily on Treasury Department income tax filings. He also has available every other type of government tax report.

Then where he believes it might add to his information, O'Connor's agents consult confidential police department files, district attorneys, private crime committees, FBI files, Justice Department summary reports and state insurance department documents.

IN A SENSE this is similar to the Treasury Department's net worth type of investigation. It puts in one folder a family's personal financial history.

The Landrum-Griffin law makes this possible under the section on the fiduciary relationship between a union official and his organization. This goes for unpaid trustees as well as highly paid international labor leaders. It's all in Section 501 of the full Disclosure Act.

Here's how the Labor Department itself has explained the law: "A union officer or employee must file a report if he or his spouse or minor child... holds any securities or... other interest in, or has any income or other valuable benefit from" an employer dealing with the union.

From there on out the law becomes really detailed on possible loans or special privileges granted the official and his family by the "boss."

There even is a sentence saying it is against the law to have certain "arrangements" with such a businessman.

THE LAW also prohibits any relationships between a union official and his family and a company which sells equipment or services to the union.

To prove that the union official is not breaking this law, he must file a detailed report with the Labor Department's "fishbowl" division. Once it is filed as a sworn statement, the new enforcement division of the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959 has the right to probe its accuracy.

It is under this right that Commissioner O'Connor has been investigating union financial statements. It was his decision to look into each of Jim Hoffa's 900-odd locals.

What O'Connor has found—if anything—only he and a few of his colleagues know. But what is known is that they do know more about the private financial lives of Teamster officials than even Jimmy Hoffa himself. That is something.

OATS—WITHOUT SUNLIGHT OR SOIL — Brothers Don, left, and Gene Hayes examine their indoor "oats factory" in Du Quoin, Ill. Insulated, air-conditioned, humidity-controlled stainless steel building has an irrigation system with chemical additives. All this means that the oats can be grown without soil—six-inch oats in six days. Fluorescent lighting, on constantly, promotes growth and green color. The Hayes brothers feed the oats to trotters and pacers they own for a "summer" diet all winter long. Result: exceptionally healthy horses.
